IM INTERMEDIATE MID PROFICIENCY

Speakers at the Intermediate Mid sublevel are able to handle successfully a variety of uncomplicated communication tasks in straightforward social and transactional situations. They can engage effectively in predictable and concrete exchanges that involve personal information related to self, family, home, daily activities, interests, and personal preferences, as well as physical and social needs, such as food, shopping, travel, and lodging. They are capable of asking a variety of questions to obtain information to meet basic needs, such as instructions, prices, and services.

At the Intermediate Mid sublevel, speakers are able to express personal meaning by creating with the language, in part by combining and recombining known elements and conversational input. Their speech largely consists of strings of sentences; it may contain pauses, reformulations, and self-corrections as they search for adequate vocabulary and appropriate language forms to express themselves, and their pronunciation, vocabulary, and syntax may reflect some influence from the other languages that they know. However, they are generally able to be understood and can sometimes recognize and correct miscommunication when it occurs.

ACTFL INTERMEDIATE MID 1 - SPEAKERS

Communication Tasks	Can communicate minimally about self, others and everyday life. Can handle short social interactions in everyday situations. Can ask and answer a variety of questions to get information and satisfy basic needs.
Contexts/Content	Communicate using predictable exchanges necessary for survival in the culture, including personal information related to self, family, home, daily activities, interests, personal preferences, and physical and social needs.
Discourse Type	Produce responses that typically consist of simple sentences and some strings of sentences. Speech contains frequent pauses, reformulations, and self-corrections as speaker searches for adequate vocabulary.
Accuracy	Are most accurate when communicating in sentences on familiar topics. In spite of vocabulary limitations, grammar errors, and accent/pronunciation issues, they are generally understood by communication partners.

TIPS FOR IMPROVING PROFICIENCY

- Practice giving detailed descriptions. When talking about people, places, things, and routines, give a more detailed description by using adjectives and adverbs to further define nouns and verbs. Include multi-word clauses and prepositional phrases that provide more specific information as to who, when, where and how.
- Speak in all time frames. Talk about what is happening, has happened, and will happen, with the objective of improving the use of the correct verb forms and other time markers to distinguish major time frames: past, present, and future.
- Connect speech into cohesive discourse. Use conjunctions, transitional phrases, and adverbial and adjective clauses to organize speech into connected, cohesive utterances that approach paragraph length discourse.
- Broaden the topics. Talk with others about work, school, current events, and topics and events that are of interest to people in your community.
- Increased fluency and improve delivery. Practice speaking aloud to improve the flow of speech to reduce hesitations, pauses, stops and restarts, repetitions, and self-corrections.
